

iGo TEAM MEMBER DEADLINES

- ❑ Immunizations Begin now

You should consult with a doctor regarding the immunizations you need when traveling overseas. You can also get some ideas from the following websites: www.imb.org/medinfo (International Mission Board immunization suggestions) and www.cdc.gov/travel (Center for Disease Control). Note: Shop around for the best price on immunizations. A county health clinic is usually the cheapest; however, you might know a doctor who would be willing to give you the shots at no cost in order to contribute to your mission journey.
  - ❑ Begin fundraising Begin Now

Begin now sending out your initial wave of support letters and getting your church involved. Your plans for other fundraising ideas and events should also be underway. If you have not done so already, you need to download the Fundraising Information Packet off of the website.
  - ❑ Join the Facebook Group Begin Now

You can always call or email your team leader to get information. But if you would like to be able to talk to other students on your team, one of the best places to be able to communicate with other team members is on Facebook. There is a “09 KS/NE Super Summer Global” group that you and the rest of your team will be invited to join. More information about the group is listed in the section titled “Staff and Communication.”
